

Irene Alessandrini

Communications Coordinator

Irene has a degree in International Relations, an MA in Public Policies, and a diploma in coaching.

She's a communications expert specializing in communication and team management with a participatory and 360° approach. For over 6 years, she has coordinated various communication areas, and for the past 3 years, she has focused on providing digital marketing services.

She also has 15 years of experience training and developing teams and professionals in organizational and process management tools, and providing institutional strengthening services in these areas.

irene@vozesdh.org

Irene Alessandrini